2ND ANNUAL HOʻOLAULEʻA

It has been two years since the start of

Ka Māla o Niuhelelewai
The garden of Niuhelelewai
The kalo (taro) is ready to be harvested!

Come down to the māla on Wednesday, April 17th, from 11am to 2pm

Learn how to pound your own poi,
and enjoy the food (until it runs out)

In keeping with the sustainability theme, if possible please bring your own reusable plate or container, beverage cup or bottle, and utensils for your lunch.
We will be limiting the use of paper goods and Styrofoam products in order to maintain mālama ʻāina (caring for the land/earth) and alleviate the trash in the landfill.
