

Prepared by the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs
This is a NEW Executive Policy.

Executive Policy - Administration

March 2008

E6.207 Authorized Dependents of Active-Duty Military

I. Introduction

This executive policy concerns the tuition status for continuing University of Hawai'i students who have qualified for the Board of Regents non-resident tuition exemption as authorized dependents of active-duty military personnel stationed in Hawaii when the military servicemember is transferred due to military orders.

II. Objectives

The purpose of this policy is to establish and promulgate procedures for campuses to handle the tuition status of current University of Hawai'i students who have qualified for the Board of Regents non-resident tuition exemption as authorized dependents of active-duty military personnel stationed in Hawaii when the military servicemember is transferred due to military orders. It also seeks to allow the students to complete the degree level or program level they are seeking when the military servicemember is transferred.

III. Policy Guidelines

- A. Continuing students who have qualified for the Board of Regents non-resident tuition exemption as authorized dependents of active-duty military personnel stationed in Hawaii will continue to be exempt from paying the non-resident tuition differential, should the military servicemember be transferred out of the State of Hawai'i due to military orders.
- B. Students must be continuously enrolled, unless given an approved leave of absence, to receive this tuition benefit.
- C. Students will remain eligible for this benefit until completion of degree level or program level, as long as the military servicemember remains on active-duty status (see E).
- D. Students must present military orders showing the servicemember's transfer out of state.

- E. Students will no longer be eligible for this benefit at the time the active-duty military servicemember is discharged from the military.
- F. Students may transfer or change home campuses within the University of Hawai'i system as long as they remain in the same degree level or program level.

IV. Effective Date

Effective Fall 2008.