

ASEAN 2015 Integration and Impacts for the CMLV (Cambodia, Myanmar, Laos, Viet Nam) Member States

How will the impending December 2015 integration of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations into a single market under regional governance affect the CMLV States (Cambodia, Myanmar, Laos, Vietnam), which bear different development levels from the other six ASEAN Member States (Indonesia, Singapore, Malaysia, the Philippines, Thailand, and Brunei Darussalam)?

What are the fundamental differences between ASEAN integration and integration under the European Union, and how will these differences impact the regulatory frameworks on trade, investment, environment, labor, and human rights in Southeast Asia, particularly the CMLV countries which face greater developmental and governance challenges?

This roundtable initiates the ALIC Seminar Series for 2014-2015, and aims to introduce students, faculty, business and other policy-makers to the intricacies of the changing contours of the Southeast Asian single market and regional governance coming into play for over 600 million individuals in the ten Member States of the most strategic maritime and shipping region of the world.

About ALIC

The ASEAN Law & Integration Center at the University of Hawai'i William S. Richardson School of Law responds to the urgent need for continuous top-tier research and capacity building on legal, regulatory, and policy reforms involved in all aspects of ASEAN integration. It is the only institution in the United States legal academy to date that is specifically dedicated to supporting the analysis, assessment, development, and innovation by the ASEAN Member States in the process of creating and establishing "ASEAN Law", "ASEAN jurisprudence", and "ASEAN institutions" for the Southeast Asian single market.

Prof. Michael Ewing-Chow
National University of Singapore
Center for International Law

Prof. Diane Desierto
ASEAN Law &
Integration Center,
UH Richardson School
of Law

Prof. David Cohen
ASEAN Law &
Integration Center
UH Richardson School
of Law

August 29, 2014
12 noon - 1.30 pm
Moot Courtroom, Law School

WILLIAM S. RICHARDSON SCHOOL OF LAW
UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII AT MĀNOA

For more information, visit
<http://law.hawaii.edu/alic>