Raised on Lana'i, Donovan Kealoha is a serial entrepreneur and community leader. He currently serves as Senior Associate at Startup Capital Ventures (based in Silicon Valley), where he works alongside the fund's partners in all aspects of potential and active investments, from deal sourcing, deal diligence, and portfolio company management, including serving on the board of portfolio company AreaMetrics.

In addition to his work with Startup Capital, Donovan is a co-founder of Adama Materials, Inc., Asio Corporation, and the Purple Mai'a Foundation, a director with Shifted Energy, a board member for the Entrepreneurs Foundation of Hawai'i, a licensed attorney, and a proud product of the Hawai'i educational system.

Meet Donovan and learn how he identifies business opportunities at Entrepreneurship Live.
