

Using Hamilton Library's Loanable Technology Collection In Your Classes

Summer 2022

Tuesday, July 26
12:00 pm–2:00 pm
Hamilton Library Room 306 & Online

This session will provide an overview of Hamilton Library's new loanable technology collection. A list of the items can be accessed at <https://manoa.hawaii.edu/library/devices>.

Attention will be paid to how the available technology can improve teaching and learning by helping faculty to create educational materials and students to create assignments and interact with classmates.

Topics will include:

- An overview of the video and audio equipment, including stands and greenscreens
- Some free software available
- Designing and assessing assignments
- Creating learning objects

PRESENTER

Brian Richardson
